

AGREED PAYROLL GIVING UPDATED DISCLOSURE STATEMENT 01.01.2025:

Data Protection & Privacy:

GoodPAYE are collecting your personal data for the purposes of processing your Payroll Giving donation.

You are under no obligation to give, or provide any personal information, however if you do wish to give then there is a “minimum” level of data you must supply and which we must pass to your Employer’s Payroll Department, your chosen charity/ies and chosen HMRC registered Payroll Giving Agent.

We, GoodPAYE, will store your data in line with our internal Data Protection Policy (which you can find here) for a period of 7 years, after which time we will anonymise it.

Our full Privacy Policy is detailed at <https://goodpaye.com/general-privacy-policy/>

If you would like to update the data that is held about you (or your donation) at any time (including a request for the data to be deleted), please contact hello@goodpaye.com

Disclosure Statement

GoodPAYE, company registration number 13256341, is a professional fundraising organisation. Our services to all involved in the setup and ongoing administration of your Payroll Giving donation are varied and far-reaching. However, only if support is generated from our work are we paid a one-off fee by the charities we represent. Please visit <https://app.goodpaye.com/s/directory> for the full list of charities we represent.

The person you are talking to is a fundraiser paid by GoodPAYE.

We estimate that our annual remuneration this year (2025) will be in the region of £30,000, for a projected income of £400,000, which will be proportionately shared (in accordance with donations made) by the circa 50 charities we are contracted to and other non-client charities. The average life of a Payroll Giver is 6-7 years.

Complaints procedure

You will find full details of our Complaints Procedure, escalation of complaints and how to complain on our website <https://goodpaye.com/complaints-policy/>

The APGO

As referenced in our Complaints Procedure, we are members of a self-regulatory body called The Association of Payroll Giving Organisations (The APGO) and as such, we follow a strictly enforced code of conduct that, above all, ensures that employees are able to give to any UK charity regardless of whether or not we represent that cause.
